

Copyright Assignment Agreement

The Author hereby agrees to publish the article (“the Work”) in Journal of Acute Medicine, tentatively entitled:

And agrees to transfer the copyright of the Work to the publisher of Journal of Acute Medicine in all forms and media in the event that the Work is published.

The Author still retains the rights of personal use without the need to obtain specific permission from the publisher, such as:

1. trademark and patent rights to the Work;
2. the right to make copies of all or any part of the Work for the educational use of the Author, including for the classroom teaching use;
3. the use of all or any part of the Work for the publishing of the Author’s books or compilations;
4. the internal use in the Author’s workplace, including making copies and distributing copies to research colleagues for their personal use; and
5. the right to publicly release the Work and information pertaining to the Work.

The Author hereby warrants that the Work is original. The Author warrants the Work includes no illegal or abusing content, and free of any infringement of intellectual property rights of the third party. If the title of the Work is modified for editing reasons, the Author agrees the Work with modified title shall be the same work and such modification shall not affect the validity of this Agreement.

If each author’s signature does not appear below, the signing Author has asked for each author’s consent and has been authorized to execute this Agreement for and on behalf of all the authors.
